Ann Saephan, 15, of Anchorage. On November 8th, 2003 Ann was a passenger in a car sitting in the parking lot at the Space Station on Spenard Road when a suspect fired several rounds into the rear of the car killing Ann. The suspect fled on foot and to this day has not been identified. From Ann's obituary: Ann was born Jan. 21, 1987, in Portland, OR and moved to Alaska in July 1998. She was a sophomore at Bartlett High School. She was a member of The Anchorage Church of Christ. Her family wrote: "Ann loved being around friends and family. She loved to sing, dance and write. She was always helping friends and family in their times of need with a warm open, loving heart. Please contact Anchorage Police Department at 907-786-8900.

No one should get away with murder! We are asking for the public to never forget these young girls and their families, and for those with any information to come forward. The Homicide Reward Fund will pay up to $20,000 to get their killers behind bars. They are a risk to all of us. The families and friends of these teenage girls need answers and they deserve justice.
